

Threatened and Endangered Species Permit Conditions

If an issued permit includes a condition that imposes requirements including monitoring specifically in response to a T&E species concern, then the Biological Opinion from the Services requires that to be reported annually. If the permit conditions are not specific to a T&E species, then they do not need to be reported.

Please copy the entire permit condition from the permit into the "monitoring condition" cell. You should use a separate line for each condition.

If reporting is required by a monitoring condition, then you must provide that monitoring data to EPA on an annual basis. If the reported data can easily be copied and pasted, please do so. Otherwise indicate the document name and submit it with this spreadsheet.

If no monitoring conditions were included during the reporting period, please indicate with a "no information" entry in the table below.

NPDES Permit Number	Facility Name	City	State	Monitoring Condition	Reported Data
---------------------	---------------	------	-------	----------------------	---------------

No monitoring was reported by permittees pursuant to 125.98(k) since the 2014 Existing Facility Rule was promulgated. (Years 2014, 2015, 2016)
